Tennessee Government Management Institute

Tennessee Government Management Institute

TGMI is an intensive two-week residential leadership development experience for mid-level managers and supervisors. The program provides the big picture perspective of state government as participants build the foundational core competencies expected of all leaders in Tennessee.

Agency executive leadership works with SLS to identify participants.

Tennessee Government Executive Institute

TGEI is an intensive two-week residential leadership development experience for senior and mid-level managers. The program provides opportunity to learn, dialogue and debate the complexities of state government as participants build the advanced set of core competencies needed to reach their agency's vision while working across agency boundaries.

Agency executive leadership works with SLS to identify participants.
